HOLIDAY CULTURES COLLABORATION

Join the Department of Geology & Environmental Geosciences in a festive creative wellness project celebrating interesting views of different cultures, histories, and religions.

Help us illustrate a “world of holidays” by representing your yearly traditions in drawing or word format on the craft paper outside of the main office (SSMB 224)!

GEOLOGY CLUB HOLIDAY SOCIAL

Come de-stress with the Geology Club at the Holiday Social on THIS Friday, December 3rd from 5:00 – 7:00 pm. The event is open to all GEOL/GENV majors and minors, so be sure to stop by for some hot chocolate, apple cider, snacks, and a sticker exchange! Wear your favorite ugly sweater, and there will be an optional white elephant gift exchange ($10 limit).
CSL GEOLOGY TUTORS

The Center for Student Learning (CSL) is looking for Geology majors and minors to work as tutors for introductory and 200-level geology courses. Tutors typically work 4-8 hours a week. Tutoring for the CSL is a great way to review course information and understand it at a deeper level. Interested students can apply or faculty can submit a student recommendation form here.

HOCKEY GAME WITH MESSA: FUNDRAISER!

MESSA (M.S. in Environmental and Sustainability Studies Student Association) is partnering with the Stingrays Hockey team to host a social event and fundraiser to support EVSS students this Friday, December 3rd at 7:05 pm at the North Charleston Coliseum. They have reserved a section of 100 seats and each ticket purchased through this link provides $5 to support EVSS students research, travel and professional development (see attached flyer). Join us this Friday and invite your friends and family!
